O. , 2004. OCLC Number: (OCoLC)54910042 Subject: Church charities -- United States. Excerpt: . . . 11 tions to the hearing record, that any answers to written questions provided by the witnesses also be included in the record. Without objection it is so ordered. What I just read functionally means is that this is not a town meeting, it is a congressional hearing. The witnesses that are testi-fying have prepared written statements but anybody else who has written statements if they give them to Congressman Davis or my-self within the next 5 days, they will be submitted into the record. The record entails this. We have a court stenographer here today. I dont know if it takes us a year or year and a half until these things get printed in a booklet form but since these are the only hearings being held by Congress on faith-based, they will be the more or less permanent record of the kind of the history of faith-based....
