Pursuant to a legislative requirement, GAO provided information on the Government Performance and Results Acts (GPRA) implementation during the initial pilot phase, fiscal years (FY) 1994 to 1996, focusing on: (1) whether the managerial accountability and flexibility pilot worked as intended and the reasons why it did or did not; and (2) the lessons learned from this pilot and their possible implications for governmentwide implementation of GPRA. GAO noted that: (1) the GPRA managerial accountability and flexibility pilot did not work as intended; (2) the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) did not designate any of the 7 departments and 1 independent agency that submitted a total of 61 waiver proposals as GPRA managerial accountability and flexibility pilots; (3) three major factors contributed to the failure of GPRA's managerial accountability and flexibility pilot phase to work as intended; (4) first, changes in federal management practices and laws that occurred after GPRA was enacted affected agencies' need for the GPRA process; (5) second, GPRA was not the only means by which agencies could receive waivers from administrative requirements, and thereby obtain needed...
